TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY.

The State Board of Health, the United States Public Health Service and the Red Cross are united in this appeal to every citizen of Kentucky to help in lessening the spread of influenza and the development of pneumonia.

Nearly four hundred thousand Kentuckians suffered from these diseases last year, and fourteen thousand died from them. Deaths and sickness can be greatly lessened this year if each individual will do his part in avoiding them.

Have yourself and family and every one dependent upon you inoculated at once. Nearly five hundred thousand have been inoculated in Kentucky. Very few of those have developed influenza, and less than a dozen have died from pneumonia. Material for inoculation is furnished free by the State Board of Health. Go to your doctor and be inoculated. If you are not able to pay for the service, go to your Health Officer and have it done without cost. Avoid visiting the sick, especially if they have colds or sore throats.

It is frequently difficult even for a doctor to tell a bad cold from mild influenza. Pneumonia, in nearly every case, is following neglected mild influenza. If you take cold, go home for the safety of the community, to a well ventilated room by yourself, for the safety of your family, and to your bed for your own safety. Send for your doctor, but if you are unable to get him, take a dose of castor oil, drink water freely, and eat soups, eggs and other soft food, salted to taste. Avoid whisky. It neither prevents nor cures influenza. Stay in bed until the cold is well, and if you stay by yourself the chances are you will not develop pneumonia. If you do these things and have been inoculated, you are practically certain not to develop pneumonia.

Cover your nose and mouth with your handkerchief when sneezing or coughing, and persuade others to do so. Don't go where crowds are, and if you find yourself where someone is sneezing and coughing, leave immediately. Local epidemics of influenza are now occurring and are likely to occur from time to time for the next two or three years, but they can be avoided by any community, family or individual if they will do these things.

Be inoculated to-day!

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FARMING IN OKLAHOMA.

(By W. E. Stilwell)

If the Bluegrass farmer knew the hardships of the Southwest, they would appreciate more this beautiful farming land. Most of that section is watered by wells and a few rivers, the drinking water is very poor, some of it is gip water, which causes a kind of colic to most everyone that drinks it. Many fine herds of Short-horn and Hereford cattle are grown there. Many of the Western breeders go there to buy their breeding cattle. The crow ranch in Montana, of 20,000 acres, and grazing 18,000 cattle, sent an order for 200 bulls.

The main crops are alfalfa, sudan, kafir corn and sorghum. Sudan makes fine hay and two cuttings a year is made. Corn and gardens seldom make a crop. The hot winds and lack of moisture dries them up. The wind blows very hard, filling every crack and keyhole with sand. It gets in your eyes, shoes and pockets. The sun shines most every day in winter. It will rain and storm all night, next morning the sun comes out warm and the birds sing, and you almost forget the howling coyote and the raging storm. The roads are sandy and they never shoe their horses and mules. Their wagon frames are built with high slats to keep the hay from blowing away. Most every farm house has a storm pit in the yard. A few years ago a twister struck a section near the river. It just swept everything in its path, killed people, live stock, barns, houses and wagons were blown for miles. The land is most all level; the soil is sandy in some parts and a black loam in another. The black loam grows fine wheat. The land is easy to cultivate. The four-horse lister is used for corn planting. They call our corn planters top planters, and they have abandoned their use.

That country is noted for poultry and many quail abound there. Many hogs are bred for the market and the purebred are being established all over the State.

The red man still owns his oil and farming land, and only a few have learned to work, so he leases it to the white man. The Indians still cling to their old custom of selecting their Chiefs. He has to be tested and tried before he becomes Chief of a tribe. About 3,000 will gather at a camping ground to witness and take part in the contest.

The contest begins at sunrise and they dance until the sun goes down. Their music is a drum and a song of hay, hay, hay, and a yow, yow, yow. They never eat or drink. If they give out they lay down and rest, then return to their task. Some faint and fall and are attended by a physician that is there for that purpose. In October, 1918, at Watonga, Okla., the test lasted from Monday sunrise until Saturday evening at sunset, and the Chief's medal was presented by Pocahontas, II. Then a big feast was spread, and they all danced and sang hay, hay, hay and yow, yow, yow.

World Heavy With Sorrow.

The world in which we are living our lives, and in which we will continue to live, is a world heavy with sorrow and sadness. The war has wrought a ruin which will take many years to repair. Those of us who are alive will never see the end of this great task. So there is a clear task before us. We must help those who have been hurt and broken, and comfort those who have been made sorrowful. Just because the task is so big it challenges us to do our best, to stop playing at being Christians, and to strive with all our might and power to do our best.
